

Lab -5

1. Create an outer class with a function display and sum, again create another class inside the outer class named inner with a function called display and call the three functions in the main class.
2. Write a program create a class 'simpleobject'. Using constructor to display the message. Implements constructor overloading.
3. Write a program for the following
 - ✓ for call by value.
 - ✓ for call by reference.